

Marriage Is What Brings Us Together Today

Marriage and Xyngular, anyway!

What does the term “marriage” or “married couple” mean to Xyngular? “Married couple” includes persons who live together in a long-term relationship that resembles marriage and includes, without limitation, cohabitating couples, domestic partners, civil unions, civil partnerships, registered partnerships, or common-law couples.

And that can be a beautiful thing, right? When you decide to be with someone, it’s because they’re the person who makes you feel the best. They’re the person who makes you want to be a better version of yourself. Together, you are a team! If you’re on your health journey—or any kind of journey—support from the one you love is critical.

What does all this have to do with Xyngular’s Policies?

Here are some things to know about being defined as a “married couple” with Xyngular:

- Married couples, as defined by Xyngular, must be part of the same Independent Distributorship or Member account.
- Where one spouse is a Distributor, the other spouse may not have a separate Member account.
- Married couples may not have two separate Distributor accounts.
- Married couples may not have two separate Member accounts.

Xyngular realizes that life is ever changing—and because of those changes, it may require you to make some changes to your Xyngular account, as well. Don’t worry! You won’t need to create a new account;

When Xyngular comes across beneficial accounts, what is the process?

At times the policies may seem confusing or unclear, but that is where your Xyngular Compliance team can help! We want to make sure we provide our Xyngular Distributors and Members with the best education possible on our policies. We never want you to feel like you’re in trouble; we only want to help provide clarity. We have come up with a few Frequently Asked Questions that will help you understand how we handle beneficial accounts.

Q: What happens if I have an account and my partner has an account, as well?

A: Based on our policies, we look at which account was created first and that one remains the active account. The second account created becomes the terminated account since it's basically a duplicate of the first. Even if one account is under your name and the other account is under your spouse's name, it still creates a situation where you have a beneficial interest in two separate accounts.

Q: What is the purpose of adding my spouse to my account after their account has been terminated?

A: Adding them as a spouse on the main account allows them to place orders, update information, and assist in account management as a spouse.

Q: How do I know if I have two accounts in the system?

A: The best way to check is to call or email our amazing Member Service team! They will be able to verify if two accounts have been created, and if so, we'll keep the oldest account.

Q: If I don't like my sponsor, why can't I just create a new account?

A: In order to change sponsors, you must adhere to the following policy, which was created to reduce a culture of dropping and restarting Distributorships/Memberships to protect the integrity of our organization and your business: "A Distributor/Member must wait at least six months after termination of his or her Independent Distributorship, or six months of inactivity, before obtaining a beneficial interest in an Independent Distributorship under a different Sponsor."
